

Figure 1. Aphid mortality when exposed to lambda-cyhalothrin alone, a section dsRNA alone, or the two combined. Each set of bars represent a unique colony of aphids. Note aphids with the MTAB R genotype were completely resistant and all wild-type aphids died. This post-hoc analysis is only to demonstrate the relative impact of dsRNA on aphids, as a statistical comparisons are not possible at this time as each genotype was assayed alone.